HOPLAND NEWS NOTES

...gs in Sanel Valley's Lively Capital

PERSONAL AND OTHER MENTION

Special to Dispatch

Hopland, April 3—Fairfield and Brookes received a new player piano for the Pastime Theatre last week which adds much to the attractiveness of that popular plaisance.

Rev. Elbert Holland, pastor of the M. E. Church in Lakport, is a strenuous man. He arrived in Hopland Friday in time to catch the northbound train at noon, having walked the entire distance from Lakeport in a little more than five hours. He chose for his route, the power line which he found very steep and rough in places.

Clement Beattie received a carload of horses from the city Friday which he purchased at auction during his recent visit there. These horses came from Nevada and were mostly of the mustang stock, a very tough animal suitable for all purposes. Bud may yet rival Bill Kelsey as a horse trader. Bill Kelsey was a close rival to David Harum.

V. R. Thompson has filed notice of contest on the homestead of Dave Vassar, a 160 acre claim located near the headwaters of Feliz Creek, claiming that Dave has not complied with the law in regard to making improvements on his property.

Game warden A. F. Lea was a visitor in town Saturday, his presence probably being a warning to those persons who respond to the "call of the wild" a few days before the trout season leagily opens. Opening day, Tuesday, was rather a cold blustery day, and while fishing was reported to be fairly good we are not able to record any large catches.

Quite a little interest is manifest lately in Government land matters, several persons having gone out from here to look at prospective claims. Bill Kelsey is said to be commercially applying the christian occupation of locating strangers on Uncle Sam's broad green acres in this vicinity.

Chas. Dunphy was a week end visitor at the Burns ranch near here, this being his first visit here for some time. During his absence he has been in Mexico looking after extensive interests of Col. D. M. Burns. He says he managed to dodge the bullets that fly like hailstones in Huerta's troubled domain, but that it is anything but a pleasant place to reside at the present time.

T. E. Armstrong had the misfortune to seriously injure his hand while working in the Catholic Church Monday. His saw slipped in some manner, cutting the back of his hand and severing a tendon just back of his second finger.

A birthday party was tendered Mrs. Clarence Duncan at the Fairfield and Brookes hall Tuesday evening by a number of her friends and relatives. A very plesant evening was spent with music games and refreshments, the guests departing at a late hour wishing the young lady many more pleasant anniversaries.

Several of our good people we note with regret are on the sick list this week. Mrs. F. W. Gordon who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, is now on the road to recovery. Mrs. W. T. Myers is confined to her home with a physical disorder. William Duncan was stricken Tuesday night with an acute attack of his stomach trouble, his condition for a time causing some alarm to his family. Dr. Hickox was hastily summoned and spent most of the night with his patient. At this writing we are pleased to note Will is improving and able to be about again.

Mrs. A. W. Foster was a visitor at Hopland Stock Farm the early part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Hotell are sojourning in the metropolis this week.

Louis Lucenesi was a business visitor at McCrays Tuesday.

Mrs. W. D. Robinson is quite indisposed at her home in East Hopland.

Heavy frosts hit our valley the early part of the week. No damage as yet reported to fruit buds.

Brusa Gets Eight Years

Chas Brusa, of Wendling, who was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Geo. Finney in Sonoma county about two weeks ago charged with rape, was arraigned in the Superior court last Saturday and pleaded guilty to attempt to commit rape. He was sentenced by Judge White to 8 years in San Quentin.

Brusa's crime was one of the most reprehensible that has come up before the Superior court of this county for years, as the victim was his own 15-year old daughter.

It is generally considered that he was fortunate in being allowed to enter the plea he did, as District Attorney Duncan was prepared to prove that the crime he was guilty of was much more serious than the one for which he was sent to prison.

Storm Causes Loss

L. R. Cooper came over from Witter springs last Saturday, accompanied by his son, Vincent Francis Cooper, his head vacquero. The late storm which did so much for the valley ranchers, hit Mr. Cooper pretty hard. He had just finished shearing his goats and the cold weather caused the animals to crowd together in the sheds until a large number were smothered. He lost 200 goats and 300 kids through this cause.

GATHERING OF CLAN IN SOUTHERN CAL.

Ex-Ukiah People Hold Re-Union

Special to Dispatch

Los Angeles, March 31—A very enjoyable afternoon was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Douglass in Los Angeles Saturday, March 29.

The occasion was the organization of an Embroidery Club among the former Ukiah residents, now living in Los Angeles and vicinity. Those present were, Mrs. Pet Laughlin James, of Pasadena, Mrs. Helen Thurman Jennings of Fresno, Mrs. Lula Orr of Van Nuys, Miss Lydia Mankins, Mrs. Clara Laughlin, Mrs. Kathryn Gibson Scull, Mrs. Georgia Coulter Miles, Mrs. Carrie Van Allen Macdonald and Mrs. Etta Douglass, all of Los Angeles. Naturally the subject of conversation was Ukiah, and things pertaining thereto.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglass are not greatly pleased with Southern California, and all agreed with them that the things lacking here, namely, water, wood, and natural scenery and other things as well, prevail in such abundance in Mendocino county, that the only respect in which this part of the state has the advantage, is the large number of men whose business it is to open up, promote, and develop new tracts of country.

If Ukiah and Mendocino county had some boosters who would help to get Eastern capital interested there, eastern people would quit coming with the idea, that all of California is in and around Los Angeles.

Mrs. Jennings is just returning from Kentucky, where she has been since last June, and is the guest of Mrs. Clara Laughlin until next week, when she departs for her home in Fresno.

The children had a party also, while their mothers were sewing and visiting. They were Dorothy and Bernice Douglass, Edda and Doris Miles, Mildred Orr, Virgil Laughlin and Leech Jennings.

The Club will meet once a month and the April meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Laughlin.

Will Ship Produce Free

The Northwestern Pacific announce that they will receive for free shipment over their lines all produce or merchandise whatsoever, intended for use by the flood, fire and famine sufferers in the East. The shipments must be consigned to the recognized officials of the striken cities or to officials of the Red Cross or other recognized organizations which are seeking to alleviate the sufferings of the people affected by the catastrophies.

NEW CASES FILED IN SUPERIOR COURT

Civil and Probate Matters Begun

Preston and Preston on behalf of Grace Hudson have filed a complaint in foreclosure against L. A. Boyer. The property involved is located in Mendocino County and was given as security for the payment of $4500 with interest at 7 per cent per annum since Aug. 15, 1912. Nothing has been paid on principal or interest according to the complant. The plaintiff also asks for $250 attorney fees, costs and taxes.

Lillian Miller through Weldon and Held has filed a suit for divorce from F. A. Miller, alleging extreme cruelty. The parties were married in Texas Dec. 12, 1876, and there are four minor children of whom the plaintiff asks the custody. She asks half the community property, $75 alimony per month pending the settlement of the case. $100 costs and $200 counsel fees.

Guiseppe Gemignani has filed a suit against Dr. G. A. Woelffel, of Willits, seeking to recover money paid for expenses incurred on account of the alleged neglect of the defendant in caring for the paintiff's wife. The complaint alleges that the woman had to be sent to a San Francisco hospital for treatment on account of the defendant's negligence and asks for $726.50 therefor. A second suit filed by the wife asks for $10,000 damages on account of the same cause, alleging certain permanent impairment of her health through the alleged neglect of the doctor during the birth of a child.

David Smith has filed a suit against Katie Moss through Preston and Preston seeking to foreclose a mortgage given to secure a note for $550 with interest at 8 per cent per annum since July 30, 1910. The complaint also asks for $125 attorney fees and costs of the suit.

Thomas and Thomas have applied in behalf of Robert McGarvey and wife for permission of the court to adopt the infant daughter of M. P. Flaherty, to be known as Charlotte Flaherty McGarvey.

SHROPSHIRE SHEEP FOR HOPLAND FARM

Carload of Thoroughbreds Arrives

Special to Dispatch

Hopland, April 2—A carload of thoroughbred Shropshire sheep arrived from Broadhead, Wisconsin, last Thursday for Hopland Stock Farm, for breeding purposes. There were fifty-two head in the car with a man in charge, having made the trip in fourteen days. These were a fine looking lot of sheep, large bodies and with an exceptionally heavy fleece. The rearing of such a strain as this is sure to be profitable to the owners and bring some renown to this locality.

Coast Visitors Here

Bert Lucchinetti, and wife and daughter, of Gualala, were in Ukiah last Saturday on their way home from a trip to various parts of the state lasting over a month. They enjoyed their trip but were glad to be getting back home. Mr. Lucchinetti has resided on the coast for upwards of thirty years and is one of the leading citizens of the south coast section. They departed for Cloverdale en route home Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. David Squires was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Bernard Moore, in Ukiah the past week.

HELD CRYSTAL WEDDING LAST MONDAY EVENING

Hutchisons Are Guests and Hosts

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hutchison were guests and hosts in turn last Monday evening on the occasion of their crystal wedding. A number of their friends had prepared a little program in their honor and Bob and his better half learned of this and prepared a fitting end to the evening in the way of a big banquet.

The guests assembled in Odd Fellows hall, Mrs. Jessie Hildreth, Mrs. Ida Malpas and Mrs. L. W. Babcock assisting with the receiving. A short program was then given, pleasing numbers being rendered by the two Hutchison youngsters with Miss Lois Hutchison as accompanist, and by Dr. Thomas, Miss Kate Thomas, P. H. Joseph, Henry Keller, Mrs. J. H. Barker and Mrs. Celia Lobree.

At the conclusion of the program Mrs. Nellie Gibson started the wedding march and Robert, the magnificent, entered with his sweetheart on his arm. Bob was decked out in the likeness of a redheaded Irish Mick with a red wig and red sideburns and appropriate costume, while Mrs. Hutchison wore a short hoop skirt and voluminous bridal veil. J. W. Preston then assumed charge of ceremonies arrayed in a longtailed coat and various other outlandish vestments and wearing a wig with long, white, stringy locks, and a pair of spectacles. In answer to questions it developed that Mattie had been divorced in Reno, was 17 years of age and the mother of three children. The decree of divorce and a health certificate were read, the marriage license produced and the couple were duly married with a gutta percha ring. The entire affair was a scream from start to finish and the onlookers nearly laughed themselves into hysterics.

The main business of the evening finished, Robert and his wife invited the assembled company to the Palace Hotel dining room where a magnificent spread was demolished in due time. Toasts were the order of the evening with J. W. Preston as toastmaster and responses were made by T. L. Carothers, H. B. Smith, Dr. Ida Malpas, Robert Duncan, Mrs. L. W. Babcock and many others. At the conclusion of the evening the healths of the bride and groom were drunk in cold water and the guests departed with best wishes for the continued health and prosperity of Mr. and Mrs. Hutchison.

The couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts in the way of flowers and cut glass.

E. L. Waldteufel spent a few days in San Francisco the first of the week on a business deal.

STATE HIGHWAY A BEAUTIFUL BOULEVARD

New Road Roller Used on Job

Special to Dispatch

Hopland, April 3—A large road roller arrived for the Highway Commission Wednesday to be used in putting the new road in condition between here and Sonoma County. This roller is one of the latest improved self propelling type, power being furnished by a gasoline motor. The weight of the machine is thirteen tons equipped for the road. The new road soon to be completed by the state is a splendid piece of work. Might properly be called a boulevard, rising gradually out of Sanel valley until it commands a beautiful view of the picturesque country surrounding, with Russian river nearly always in sight and the best part of it is, one does not need to keep the eye continually on the road ahead to avoid striking ruts, bumps or running into the bank.

Woman is Freed

Kate Moss, who was brought over from Point Arena the latter part of last week charged with insanity, had her examination before Judge White last Monday. During the examination the woman told a story of wrongs suffered on account of the depredations of divers persons who took advantage of her enforced absence from home to remove cattle from her ranch and household furniture frou her dwelling. The examining physicians stated that the woman was sane.

It appears that she had been the victim of most despicable treatment on the part of certain neighbors and she stated that what she had gone through was enough to drive anyone crazy. The judge stated that he believed so also and instructed the woman be returned to her home.

She was completely exonerated of the charge aganist her and the general feeling of those who heard the story was one of indignation at the trumped up character of the proceedings that had been instituted against her, apparently out of pure malice.

Plead Not Guilty

Louis Owens has pleaded not guilty to the charge of furnishing liquor to Indians and the trial of the case will be held May 13.

E. Vassar and Leland Thompson, charged with having stolen dynamite from the Clear Lake Railroad Co. appeared in court this week and entered a plea of not guilty. Their trials have been set for May 14th.

Miss Susie Gibson Weds

Miss Susie Gibson and L. Avalon Brown were married in Oakland last Monday. Their marriage has been anticipated by their friends for some time and was published in several of the county papers as having been consummated several weeks ago, but this was not true.

Their many friends in Ukiah will extend good wishes.

STAY OF EXECUTION GRANTED TO WOODLEY

Case Appealed to Higher Courts

The case of the People vs. J. Woodley, which was continued to last Monday as told in last week's Dispatch, after a point had been raised by Attorneys Weldon and Held for the defense, came up again last Tuesday for argument. The defense maintained that the woman known as Pearl White was not legally Woodley's wife. Before judgment was pronounced last Tuesday the defense moved for a new trial, which was refused and they then filed notice of intention to appeal. Judgment was pronounced for five years in San Quentin by Judge White and the defense then asked for a stay of execution pending the appeal to the State Supreme Court. The stay of execution was granted and Woodley was remanded to the custody of the sheriff to be kept in the county jail until the settlement of the case, he being unable to obtain the required bond.

Death of Miss Vic Lynch

Miss Vic Lynch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Lynch, passed away at the Malpas hospital last Friday about noon after an operation which left her in a very weakened condition. Her health had been failing for many months and the operation was the last resort by which the attendng physician, Dr. Van Allen, could see any chance to save her life. The operation was performed by Dr. Rea, assisted by Dr. Van Allen and Dr. Malpas, and although the best of care was taken of the patient, all efforts to save her were in vain.

Victorine Barbara Lynch was born in Ukiah March 2, 1886, and grew to girlhood and womanhood here. She was one of the best-loved girls of her set and her death brought great sorrow to her friends. She was was one of a trio of inseparable chums, the other two members of the trio being Mrs. Madge Barter and Mrs. Bessie Flaherty, both of whom have died in the past two years, and these three were among the fairest and most popular of Ukiah's belles during recent years.

Her sorrowing relatives have the sincere sympathy of all in their bereavement.

The funeral was held last Sunday from the home of her sister, Mrs. Will Hagans, the service being conducted by Rev. J. E. Moore.

Interment was in Ukiah cemetery.

Episcopal services, next Sunday, April 6, at 11 a. m.

FREAK BILLS IN LEGISLATURE

Bull Moose Reformers Have Overdone the Job

SANFORD LIQUOR BILL IS UP

Sacramento, Cal.,
Apr. 2, 1913.

As was predicted in my last letter the red light and abatement bill passed the Senate last Friday by a vote of 29 to 11. The debate lasted all day and all the orators had a field day. It is to be hoped that the bill will accomplish what its sponsors claim for it.

There is a great deal of "freak" legislation before the legislature and even the bull moose are getting scared. The people are becoming tired of fakirs. There is enough fake legislation proposed to stop every wheel of industry in the whole state.

There is an effort to regulate everything and everybody. New commissioners are being created by the wholesale to take care of the "faithful".

The beauty of bull moose legislation is that it is all done in the name of the lord.

H. B. Muir, Thomas Bourns and a number of others interested in the lumber business were here this week to protest against some "freak" legislation that would cripple the business in which they are engaged. These bills create boiler inspectors and licensed engineers to "nose" around some other fellow's business. This would also give some more moose a chance to get their faces in the hog trough. If all the proposed legislation should pass it would cost the people just a little more than 53 million dollars.

The bills appropriating money for improvements at the Mendocino state hospital have passed the Assembly and are in the Senate Finance committee.

The Fish and Game committee is having a monkey and parrot time with the hundred bills before it. It is thought that a reasonable compromise measure will be offered as a blanket bill to cover the entire subject. One committee recommends that the fishing license be $3 for American citizens; $10 for aliens eligible to citizenship; $100 for aliens ineligible to citizenship. Wonder what the Mikado will think of that!

Legislation regulating the liquor traffic is also attracting much attention especially those closing saloons on legal holidays and preventing the sale of liquors within the fair grounds.

The Sanford bill is also up for consideration. It provides that none but citizens may have a license, closes all saloons from 1 to 5 o'clock a. m., prohibits minors under 21 from entering saloons, reduces the number of saloons so as not to exceed 1 for each 500 inhabitants. The process of "weeding out" is to be gradual. It is up to the saloon man to obey the law in order to retain his license.

Sunday rest and labor bills galore are receiving attention. Hotel men are opposing the Sunday rest measure. A bill providing for one day out of seven as a day of rest will probably be acceptable leaving it to the individual as to which day he will choose as his rest day.

Status of Fish Cases

The several cases arising out of infractions of the fish and game laws have been occupying the Superior court this week. The case of Hiram Cape, who pleaded not guilty to a charge of fishing with a set net in a coast stream, was tried before a jury yesterday. A verdict of guilty was brought in and the defendant was sentenced to a fine of $200 or 100 days in jail.

The case against A. Anderson will come up for trial today, while that against C. A. McFaul, accused of letting sawdust get into a stream, has been postponed.

Fairbanks and Baccitel have several crews of men working on the State Highway between Willits and Ridgewood.

MENDOCINO APPLE FAIR MAY BE POSTPONED

Will Aid Fort Bragg Display

The executive committee of the Fort Bragg county fair with other interested citizens of Fort Bragg—some fifteen in number—met with the directors of the Farmers and Apple Growers' Association last Monday night to take up the matter of securing the aid of the local association in providing exhibits for the coming fair to be held at our neighbor city.

After hearing reports from some of the coast orchardists, it was decided that it would be very difficult to secure an adequate display of apples from the coast at the date set for the county fair owing to the backward season, and that considering this it would not be out of the way for the local association to hold its regular apple annual at a date one month later than the county fair.

The members of the local association agreed to do all they could to secure a good agricultural display and all the fruit obtainable from its district for the Fort Bragg fair, and in turn the Fort Bragg fair officials agreed to turn over what exhibits they could to the apple annual after their fair was over, provided it was decided to hold the apple annual.

The matter of holding the apple fair has not been definitely decided, but it is likely that it will be held and that the date will be the latter part of November.—Beacon.

A Horse on Jimmie

Jim Bowman, who drives the Company's supply team, started out for Boyle's camp last Monday with three mules and a horse, but got only as far as Odd Fellow's, hall when the horse, overcome with chagrin at the company he found himself in, dropped dead. Traffic on Kasten street was blocaded until another mule was secured. Jim says that when it comes to driving a horse with three mules "it can't be done"—Beacon.

One Game Warden Busy

Game Warden Perkins was in town for several days this week and while here arrested five Italians for illegal fishing above tidewater catching them redhanded on the Little Northfork. They were brought before Justice Wallace,, and pleading guilty, were fined $25 a piece. Perkins is employed and paid by the Fort Bragg Fish and Game Association, and is quite active in hunting down violators of the fish and game laws.—Beacon.

Pencil Wood for Germany

The first consignment of pencil wood is being shipped on the Brunswick this week. It will be reshipped at San Francisco to Hamburg, Germany. This is the first order of this character filed here, and it is hoped that it will give satisfaction, as it will mean increased demand for our celebrated redwood.—Beacon.

Fort Bragg Notes

Two new bungalows are being erected on lots of Jennie Filbert near the Park School by Grover C. Cox. The cottages are to be both alike and each is to contain six rooms. Mr. Cox says quite a number of cottages are to be built on the tract if the plans of the purchasers are carried out.

Mrs. W. H. Foot, formerly Miss Annie Albright of this city died of pneumonia in Eureka, March 21st, and was buried Monday last. She leaves a husband and two small children to mourn her death.

A runaway with a bad outcome occured Friday afternoon, resulting in a broken arm for the oldest daudghter of Mrs. H. W. Johnson.

Mr. Roudier, a vegetable man, had come to town with a load of vegetables and the children of Mrs. Johnson climbed into the seat, as had been their habit on other occasions, and Roudier was to drive them to school.

He stopped at a house on Redwood avenue and left the children in the wagon, tying the reins about the whip. The children got to "cutting up" and untied the reins, whereupon the horse took fright and started to run toward Main street. Before reaching the corner of the Windsor, the smaller children were thrown out and the oldest girl remained in the rig hanging to the seat. When the runaway reached Main street, Wm. Harman ran to rescue the girl from her perilous position and succeded in grabbing the seat and taking her out, at the same time he was hit by the wheel and both hurled to the ground. The girl received a bad fracture of the arm above the elbow, while Mr. Harman had his left hand badly sprained and also sustained bruises about the leg and hip. Some of the eyewitnesses say that the hind wheel of the rig ran over them when they fell.—Ft. Bragg Chronicle.

Can't Beat This County

The discovery of an egg in the nest of a hen, owned by Dr. A. J. Farley, measuring 6 x 8 inches created quite a stir at Pomona Saturday and the dimensions of the big egg were telegraphed to the Chronicle. Dr. Farley s hen did very well indeed, but Grandma Gillmore has the doctor beaten bad. An egg laid by one of Mrs. Gillmore's hens at her Brush creek home is on exhibition at this office and measures 6 3-4 x 8 inches.—Record.

Drag Works Well

Supervisor Reynolds was down the coast Wednesday giving his new drag a tryout on the roads. It worked admirably on the soil and levels the road quickly and well. It is not suitable, however, where there are rocks, but it will prove a money saver in the many places where it can be used.—Record.

Only One

THE RECORD IN UKIAH IS A UNIQUE ONE

If the reader has a "bad back" or any kidney ills and is looking for an effective kidney medicine, better depend on the remedy endorsed by people you know. Doan's Kidney Pills have given great satisfaction in such cases. Ukiah citizens testify to this. Here is a case of it:

Mrs. John Wilson, Scott St., between School and Oak Sts., Ukiah, Calif., says: "It would be impossible for me to give Doans' Kidney Pills more praise than they deserve. For a long time I was in misery and found nothing that would give me relief. Pains started in my right hip and extended into my back and often I was so miserable that I could not lie down. I felt tired all the time and had no energy. Reading public statements given by some of our citizens who testified strongly in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills, I was led to believe that they might help me. I procured them and had used four boxes when all my pains and aches had disappeared and I was as strong and well as ever. Doan's Kidney Pills will always have my endorsements for they cured me after I had almost given up all hope of ever being well."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

STORM WORKS DAMAGE ON NEW RAILROAD

Big Slide at Seward Last Week

Damage amounting to thousands of dollars was done the extension of the Northwestern Pacific railway the first of the week when as a result of the combined action of the storm and the swirling waters of Eel River a large fill a short distance of Fort Seward was washed into the river, undoing work it had taken all winter to accomplish.

Between Out creek and Fort Seward near the railway camp known as Camp 6, there are several large cuts and fills. The largest of these is located about a mile and a half north from Fort Seward. It is on this stretch of road that the greater amount of work on the extension done by the Klipple & McLain people has been done this winter.

All winter a steam shovel and crew have been at work making the fill. A culvert was placed at the bottom of the fill and the earth piled upon it. From time to time during the winter some trouble had been experienced from the rains loosening the soil used for filling, but no great damage was anticipated. However, on Tuesday the entire fill was carried away, the water coming down the gulch and in from the river proving too much for mans handiwork.

The washing out of this fill may result in passenger trains being delayed in reaching Fort Seward, though it is yet too early to state definitely.

It is probable that instead of again filling in the gulch a long trestle will be built. If this is done the extension will be completed to the southern townsite much earlier than if the gap is bridged by again making a fill.

Seven belts of the long trestle of the Northwestern Pacific railway around Scotia bluff, just East of Nanning Creek, were carried away by an immense slide which came down early yesterday morning, passing beneath the tracks and leaving about 100 feet of rails and ties suspended in mid air.

The slide is said to be the largest and worst in many ways that has come in on the railway at any time in the last four years. When the slide occured, a passenger train was at the Shively end and this fact has enabled the railway officials to maintain the service with but slight delay.

Trains are run to the slide and passengers and freight transferred around. While it is hoped to have the damage repaired sufficiently by to-morrow to allow the regular trains to run through a great deal depends upon the weather. Should the storm continue and the bluff continue to slide in it may take several days to repair the damage. Twenty feet of earth is said to cover the tracks adjacent to where the most damage was sustained.—Humboldt Times.

Why he Was Late

"What made you so late?"

"I met Smithson."

"Well, that is no reason why you should be an hour late getting home to supper."

"I know, but I asked him how he was feeling, and he insisted on telling me about his stomach trouble."

"Did you tell him to take Chamberlain's Tablets?"

"Sure, that is what he needs." Sold by all dealers.

She Agreed.

Will—The sight of an old schoolmate is—er—well, it might be called both meat and drink.

Bertha—Yes; that's what you men usually do in the circumstances.

"Eh?"

"Meet and drink."

I Can Cure Cancer

From time immemorial, cancer has been a scourge to the human race. It is the most dreadful and mysterious disease that attacks the human body. It is rapidly increasing, not only in this county, but all over the world.

Taken in time, before ulceration inoculates the blood, it CAN BE CURED For it is the knife or the ulceration, that inoculates the system, as at first the cancer is only a parasite attacking a wart, mole, burn or bruise, and can be removed utterly, and safely by Dr. Cleveland's method IF YOU REACH HIM IN TIME.

I do not claim, as others do, that all lumps, more especially in a woman's breast, are cancer; still such a lump should be closely watched and advice taken. I have cured hundreds of cancers during my practice; some in women's breasts measuring six inches across and deep seated.

I use no knife, but simple remedies, and bleeding is entirely avoided.

Cancer patients have at the Cleveland Sanitarium a perfect home, each and every one of the attendants having the speedy cure of the sufferer at heart. My home is situated on the bank of the Russian river, and every comfort is added for the very best treatment of the patient. All I can add is, do not delay if there is any doubt, but come and be examined at once.

The sanitarium was established in 1887, and since that time I have constantly devoted my entire time and energy in treating cancers.

I can give any number of references right here in Mendocino and surrounding counties, so if afflicted do not go to the expense of a trip to San Francisco but first call on or address me.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS NOTES

By Laurie Layman

The Agricultural Department was helped this week by the lease of Dr. Stout's property southwest of the High School land. This will allow them ample means of carrying out their plans.

Ukiah will be represented at the Pacific Interscholastic meet at the University of California by our star, Reginald Caughey. Reg has been putting the shot consistently over 50 feet, throwing the discus 115 feet and the hammer 165 feet. He stands a fine chance of capturing the individual cup besides retaining his cup which he won last year in the shot.

The boys are training faithfully and by their showing the team should cop the first place at the N. W. S. L. this spring.

Thursday is Batchelors Day at school. Anybody caught queening on that day will be ducked to the full extent of the law.

Friday is Girl's queening Day. They say they will queen regardless. Look out boys.

Investigating Accident

Special to Dispatch

Hopland, April 31—Claim agent I. E. Powers of the N. W. P. R. R., with his secretary and assisted by sleuths N. P. Yeager and W. D. Crawford was in town Tuesday interviewing witnesses in connection with the Pitts' damage suit against the railroad for injury sustained by being knocked down and dragged some distance by a freight train last fall. The accident occured in front of the depot just before the arrival of a passenger train and there were several local persons witnesses to it.

Too Many Laborers

Special to Dispatch

Willits, April 2—For some time past the employment agencies in San Francisco have been sending more men up here to work on the railroad extension than there were jobs for. These poor fellows sometimes pay their last $2 to the employment agencies and are landed here busted. Last Saturday a party of 22 foreigners were sent up by the International Employment agency and only 4 of the party were put to work. The balance had to be shipped back to San Francisco.

Harris Gets New Auto

Special to Dispatch,

Hopland, April 3—Supervisor Harris is due to arrive today, Thursday, in his new Buick touring car from San Francisco, whither he went Tuesday to make the purchase. He will now be able to cover his district in a phenomenally short time, with ease and comfort to himself and be enabled to render a better service to the county. We congratulate him in keeping in the line of progress.

Wins Three Cases

Atty. J. W. Preston returned the latter part of last week from Lake county, where he had been called on business of a legal nature. J. W. came back triumphant and flushed with victory, having won three cases in the Lake county court during his absence. One of these had been lost at a previous trial and all looked pretty forlorn on the face of them, but these are the kind John eats alive and he got away with all three.

Loses Part of Finger

John Gilliland, foreman of the Jamison ranch in Potter valley was down to Ukiah last Monday. John had the misfortune to lose part of the index finger of his right hand. He was marking hogs and one of the animals made a snap at him and got part of the finger. Mr. Gilliland lost no time in getting to a doctor and had the wound dressed to prevent blood poisoning.

A RESOURCEFUL REPTILE.

The Pesky Joint Snake Cleverly Fooled Uncle Henry.

At the village grocery the evening gossip had turned upon snakes. There had been the usual tales of dens of reptiles unearthed by excavators, of hoop snakes taking their tails in their mouths and rolling rapidly down hill, and the like. Through it all "Uncle Henry" Carpenter sat silent, with a look of tolerant superiority upon his face.

"Have you ever had any experiences with snakes, Uncle Henry?" asked one of the listeners.

"Waal, I did have a queer thing happen to me about thirty year ago," Uncle Henry responded. "The minister happened in to dinner one day, and Sary Ann had me go to the chicken yard and kill our last rooster. While he was floppin' round, as chickens do with their heads off, he started up one o' these pesky joint snakes. In no time I had him broke in two at every joint. I'd heerd tell, though, how they go together again, if ye leave the pieces lay'in' round, so I jest took the piece with Mr. Snake's head on it and burned it in the stove.

"Waal, we was enjoyin' our dinner unusual, and the minister was callin' for another helpin' o' chicken, when a rooster began to crow out in the chicken yard.

"'Land's sakes, Henry,' says Sary Ann, 'what rooster's that? I'm sure the only one we've got is right here on the table—and he's in no condition to crow.'

"The minister and me, we hurried right out into the chicken yard, and sure enough we heerd another crow, sort o' husky like, before we got there.

"Waal, it was simple enough when ye stop to think. The j'ints of that snake had all j'ined together again, and when they couldn't find their own head they jest took the rooster's, which I'd left layin' handy."

There was a moment's silence. When the conversation was resumed it no longer dealt with snakes. — Youth's Companion.

WON THE JURY.

A Couple of Shrewd Queries and the Railroad Lost Its Case.

A number of years ago Benjamin F Butler was a guest of friends in Brooklyn. During his visit he noted the rule of the street railway companies compelling conductors to register fares as soon as passengers entered the cars and before the fares were actually collected. Two or three years afterward he represented the plaintiff in a damage suit for $15,000 in which a Brooklyn street railway company was the defendant. The principal witness for the company was the conductor of the car on which the accident occurred and his testimony was so strong as to make things look bad for Butler's client. But Butler recalled the unusual rule he had remarked years before, and on cross examination he said:

"Your company requires you to ring up fares as soon as passengers enter the car, doesn't it?"

"Yes."

"Suppose a passenger boards your car and then finds he is on the wrong line. Do you state that fact to your superiors, and do they make allowance on your returns for that fare?"

"No. I lose the nickel."

"Do you mean to say the company won't take your word for 5 cents?"

"No, they won't."

"Yet," said the shrewd veteran, turning to the jury, "the company asks you to take this conductor's word for $15,000."

Butler's client received a verdict.—Brooklyn Eagle.

JOLTED HER DIGNITY.

The Matron, the Mules and a Spectacular Procession.

They tell a story in army circles in Washington, wherein a young matron of much dignity and a string of army mules were the principal actors. It appears that this young woman has quite a regal air, a circumstance that added much to the humor of the situation in which she found herself. Also, it should be added, it is her custom to investigate pretty thoroughly any new phase of life with which she comes in contact. Accordingly, on the occasion of her visit to an army post in the west, she had everything about the post carefully explained to her.

One day, when her host and hostess were out of the house, this young woman thought it well to go to the corral to inspect the army mules. She went among the animals, carefully examining each one.

She happened to wear a costume of very light color that quickly attracted the attention of the animals, which were accustomed, like all army pack mules, to be led by the whitest animal among them. They slowly wobbled their ears as they noticed the unfurled white parasol of their visitor.

The young woman finished her inspection and took her departure. As she left the corral, she heard steps behind her. Glancing back, she saw a mule following her, while all the rest of the animals were falling into line behind their leader.

She was not afraid. Indeed, she deemed fear quite beneath her dignity. But she was startled, to say the least, and quickened her pace. The mule immediately in her rear increased his pace, too, and marched steadily along with his nose just touching the back of the white parasol.

Then it was that the occupants of the long row of officers' quarters were astonished to witness the spectacle of an extremely dignified woman coming up the avenue, at a gait that might be termed a compromise between her dignity and a desire to run, with a string of army mules behind her, the head of each just touching the tail of the one in front of him. The young woman's steps are said to have exceeded the prescribed army stride by about two feet. Her dignity was decidedly "not on straight." There were about twenty-five mules in the procession.—Youth's Companion.

Navajo Blue Spots.

It has been noticed by scientists who have been studying the interesting and mysterious Navajo Indians that the Navajo baby invariably has a blue spot at the base of its spine. The spot is sometimes as small as a dime and sometimes as big as one's hand. It closely resembles a bruise, but it is due entirely to an extraordinary pigmentation. The spot may disappear before the child is five years old, but always returns later in life when this is the case. The scientists have come to the conclusion that this spot is proof positive of the Mongolian origin of the Navajo. And they also make the astonishing assertion that it is present in many European and American children whose parents can trace their genealogy for generations back and are certain that there has been no admixture of Mongolian blood.—Exchange.

The Doctor's Prescription.

In the Woman's Home Companion appears a story in which is related an account of a prescription given to an exceedingly stingy farmer by a doctor. The farmer took the prescription to the druggist. The druggist told the farmer that he could not fill the prescription and said to the farmer, "If you will read it yourself you will see why," whereupon the farmer adjusted his glasses and read to his astonishment:

"One hired girl to be taken as soon as you can get her and kept constantly on hand thereafter.

"A few new dresses that the wives of your hired men wouldn't be ashamed to wear and a new hat and wrap to replace those you bought her last—thirteen years ago.

"All to be tinctured with at least as much daily consideration as you bestow upon your cattle."

SHE WANTED A MASTER.

The Way a Woman of Montenegro Selected a Husband.

The Montenegrin woman wishes not only to be the mother of men, but the wife of a man. She holds to a high handed husband, to one who will be master in his own house.

Here is the story of the wooing of Gordanne:

Gordanne was the beautiful daughter of an innkeeper. Her suitors were many, and it was time for her to wed. She promised to make her choice among three suitors and summoned them all to her father's house.

First it was a youth gloved and cravatted who during a week end at Cattaro had acquired the elegancies of city life. "Excuse me," he said, with a polite doffing of his hat as she met him at the doorway. "Will you let me pass?" Gordanne stepped aside, but as she did so she murmured, "You will never be my husband."

The second, a comfortable farmer, was less polite. "Let me in," he said, pushing past the girl. "Neither shall you ever call me wife," said the girl to herself.

Then came the third, who said nothing, but, seizing Gordanne by the arm, flung her aside and entered the house as if already its master. "That," sighed the innkeeper's daughter, "is a true Montenegrin. He is the husband for me." Of such stuff, after all, are the mothers of heroes made.—Paris Letter in London Telegraph.

Appreciation.

A city man who had made good financially and socially was showing his country friend over his newly built house. It was furnished most luxuriously, and as one room after another was visited the farmer's silence increased. The city man, thinking his old country friend was too full for utterance, asked him when the last room, with its heavy furnishings, was inspected, "Well, Josiah, what do you think of it all?"

"I've been thinkin', Henry," replied the farmer, "what an all fired job you'd have if you had ter move."—Judge.

Sacrifice For Art's Sake.

"You say you have devoted your life to art," said the man who tries to be polite, even when surprised.

"Yes," replied Mr. Cumrox. "I have devoted myself to an effort to become rich enough to own a gallery of genuine old masters."—Washington Star.

When Opposition Is Bad Policy

It occurs to us that that for which the saloons in this state, as well as elsewhere, now have to contend is not a continuance of the old, wideopen regime. That forever is departing. Public opinion his issued its fiat against it, andits fiat cannot successfully be defied. In other words the saloon more and more exists solely on tolerance, and the part of wisdom for the saloonist is to recognize the fact, act accordingly, and, by relinquishing the worst features of his business with semblance of willingness, maintain the other features longer than he otherwise will.

Among the worst features undoubtedly one of the very worst is keeping the saloon open all night. This is a proposition concerning which no argument can exist, for it is undebatably true. To say that a saloon between the hours of one and five or six a. m. is a hotbed of evil is but to assert a universally recognized truism

Under these circumstances, the saloonist's wise action would be to relinquish this evil-breeding privilege and accept whatever remains to him. This would be the wise course, we say, but it does not follow that it will be adopted, for heretofore the saloonists have shown singular obtuseness in not recognizing that their business simply is tolerated. It is the lack of this recognition on their part that has hastened the process by which community after community has exiled the saloon from its boundaries. If, instead of fighting, they had done what they might to make their business as respectable as its nature will permit, many a community from which the saloon is barred would yet have its saloons, but the keepers were not wise.

And, if they were not wise in the past, neither are some of them today. They are opposing the Sanford bill, which, among its provisions, would close all saloons during the early morning hours, and they are opposing it particularly because it contains that provision. They cannot overturn all facts by contention that opening saloons during those hours is not injurious, but they oppose not the less though every fact damms them. This is the sort of unwise attitude that will hasten their own doom, the doom that already has overtaken them in a large proportion of the rural communities of California.

The saloonists would do well to consult wisdom, remaining silent when every spoken word must be their condemnation.—Sacramento Union.

Inspectors of the postoffice Department throughout the country have been notified by the department to keep a close lookout for violations of the parcel post laws by express companies. According to information coming from reliable sources, a specific case has come to light in which an express company is charged with having received a package for shipment, which it, in turn, sent by parcel post, thereby securing approximatey one hundred per cent, profit through the scheme. As the story goes, a man having suspicion against the express companies paid 40 cents expressage on a box of cigars from Detroit to Milwaukee, addressing them to himself. He then proceeded to Milwaukee, and received the package, but it had been sent by parcel post, 22 cents in stamps having been placed upon the shipment, which left a clear profit of 18 cents to the express company. No action has as yet been taken by the Postoffice Department in reference to transactions of this character, but even if there is no recourse to be had against the express companies, incidents of this character will give the express companies notoriety of such an undesirable character as to accentuate the growing feeling that the business of these companies should be taken over by the Government.—Star.

Little swirls and eddies on the surface of the bull moose political pool in California tell of struggles to the death among the denizens of those murky depths. Southern California moosers are against anti-Jap legislation and the northern leaders of the party would like to be against it too, but fear the wrath of their constituents. So they are compelled to favor it outwardly, which has occasioned some coldness between representatives of the two sections. Then there is the fight to the death over present and prospective pie, there not being enough to go round, and the smaller fry accuse the big fellows of parceling it out to their favorites. Then there is the row over who is going to be governor and who is going to be United States senator. Newspapers hitherto loud in praise of the bull moose have sunk their clamor to a whisper or ceased talking politics altogether. Meanwhile the Republicans are gathering their forces for a fight to the death with the bull moose at the next election and the democrats are organizing with enthusiastic agressiveness, victory already in sight for them as a result of the divided state of the G. O. P.

—o—o—

The reaction, which was bound inevitably to follow the wave of perfervid bull moose enthusiasm which swept over this state two years ago, and which set in when California returned two Democratic electors last fall, is gathering momentum daily. This is indicated most noticeably in the attitude of those newspapers which were howling bull moose organs two years ago. One by one they are putting on the soft pedal as regards the bull moose stuff and the name of the great Hiram, once displayed in twenty-four line capitals on the front pages, is being relegated to brevier caps and lower case on the inisde, and appears only in the news reports of the doings of the legislature. Hiram is a back number and is steadialy going farther. Two years from now he couldn't be elected dog catcher. And he aspires to the United States Senate.

The farmers of this section are jubilant over the late rains and crops and pasture have been greatly benefited.

Owing to the fact that a number of automobilists have signified their intention of making the trip over the mountains from the valleys to Point Arena special attention is being given the roads. This will be welcome news to the teachers of this district. A number of them are planning on making the trip to institute in busses via Boonville.

Arrangements for the Union High School District field day are about complete. The meet will be managed by the high school and three trophies are to be given, one for the field meet, one for basket ball, and one for base ball.

A farewell reception was tendered Rev. J. G. Hodges Monday evening by members and friends of the Presbyterian church.

The late rains caused the big run of salmon that was in the river to go on up. Fly fishing is already good and many of the local sports are making good catches.

Students of the high and grammar schools combined in giving Prof. F. D. Patton a surprise party in honor of his birthday in Scott's opera house Friday evening. A pleasant time and a good supper was enjoyed by all.

The town board met last Tuesday evening and changed certain plans in regard to the construction of the new city hall. The openings for the fire apparatus were ordered changed from square openings to arches with concrete pedestals four feet from the ground i. e. to the spring of the arch; all windows on the second story were ordered to have I steel lintels; plumbing to be altered in accordance with ideas of the superintendent. The sum of $352 was allowed extra on the contract price on account of these changes in plans.

Boost For Play

The play to be given Friday night, April 11th, by the civic committee of the Saturday Afternoon Club for the improvement of the Grammar School grounds is well under way. Under the direction of George L. Wilcox the following cast will present "Mr. Bob", the very successful society comedy

Mrs. Alice Miller, Miss Pauline Hildreth, Dr. Malpas, Mrs. Lobree, Ed. V. Henley, Oscar Olsen and Keene Raffety, all of whom are well known favorites as entertainers.

Mr. Wilcox states that he has never had a cast where each one was so particularly capable of sustaining the character for which he was cast, also that he has revised the play, cutting out everything dull and adding a number of original features, so there is something doing all the time.

A complete new stage setting is under construction and everything is being done to make this one of the most complete successes.

We must bear in mind that it requires a great deal of time and hard work for a production of this kind, all of which is being donated, and that we should all consider it our duty to liberally patronize such a worthy cause.

AN ARCTIC ADVENTURE.

Nansen's Daring and Perilous Swim For His Drifting Boats.

Among the perilous adventures of the Nansen arctic expedition was the narrow escape of Nansen and Johansen on their return trip to the Fram after their unsuccessful dash for the pole. After many months of hardship a narrow channel opened in the ice, and they launched the two light kajaks that they had carried on their sledges for more than a year. A few days afterward disaster nearly put an end to the expedition. The incident is related in "The Siege and Conquest of the North Pole," by Mr. George Bryce.

In the evening their legs felt stiff with sitting in the kajaks all day, and they landed on the edge of the ice so that they might stretch them a little. After the kajaks, which were lashed together, had been moored by means of one of the braces they ascended a hummock close by and had been standing there only a moment when Johansen raised the cry that the kajaks were adrift.

They ran to the edge of the ice, but the boats were already a little way off and were drifting quickly. The position was a terrible one, for all they possessed was on board. Nansen at once threw off some of his clothing, handed his watch to Johansen and sprang into the icy water. He knew that if the boats were lost it meant death to him and his companion. At first it seemed more than doubtful whether he could manage to regain them. When he got tired he turned over and swam on his back. At length he gained a little and redoubled his exertions.

By this time Nansen felt his limbs stiffening and losing all feeling. His strokes became more and more feeble, but the distance from the kajaks became shorter, and at last he was able to grasp a snowshoe that lay across the sterns. He now tried to pull himself up, but his body was so stiff with cold that he could not do so. After a little he managed to swing one leg up to the edge of the sledge that was lashed to the deck and then raised the rest of his body. They were saved!

With some difficulty he paddled the kajaks back to Johansen, who admitted that these were the worst moments he had ever lived through. Johansen now pulled off Nansen's wet clothes, put on the few dry ones they had in reserve, spread the sleeping bag upon the ice and covered Nansen with the sail and everything he could find to keep out the cold. The next day Nansen was all right again, and in the evening they pressed forward once more on the march that finally brought them out of the arctic.
